Grades Can Bar Students

Registrar Karl Bengston stated last week that 249 students have returned to Hartnell this fall with gradepoint averages below 1.95. He reported also that 85 students were barred from re-entrance this fall for failure to raise their grades during the probationary period last semester.

Mean gradepoint average last semester was approximately 2.063.

Early Elections and Judgings To Fill Major Student Offices

Cheerleaders

Hartnell cheer leaders and pompon girls will be chosen today by a staff of judges during the rally in the Men's gymnasium.

The judges, Miss June Handley, Mrs. Dorothy Middaugh and Mr. Robert Lee and seven student will select the students on the basis of personality, appearance and over-all ability. Their responsibilities will be to lead cheers at all rallies and football games and promote school spirit.

The newly chosen pompon girls and cheer leaders will be seen for the first time in action tomorrow night at Porterville.

Sentinel Staff Plans Complete Campus Cover

Panther Sentinel begins its fall coverage with a staff of eight. This includes five freshmen and three sophomores.

Judy Wong, Salinas, heads the staff as editor-in-chief. A sophomore, Miss Wong served as reporter last semester. Other sophomores include Jerry McFadden, Salinas, and Bob Thompson, Aptos.

New members of the staff include Susan Knepper and Lloyd Selph, Morgan Hill; Mary Schneider and Violet Shiratsuki of Salinas, and Sam LoBue of Campbell.

Miss Knepper and Selph were members of the Live Oak paper, "Oak Leaf," and the yearbook, "La Encina." LoBue was a feature and sports writer for the Campbell High school paper, "Campus Echo."

"I plan to have more variety and not stay within the campus of stories and features," said Miss Wong. "With my enlarged staff, I believe we can have a more complete and varied coverage of what's going on."

Class Sign-up Deadline Here

Today is the last day for students to register for classes at Hartnell. Today is also the deadline for adding a class to regular schedules. The only exception is for those students who wish to sign up for classes over at the east campus.

Mr. Karl Bengston, director of admissions, also stated that November 2 will be the last day students will be able to drop a single class with a grade of "W."

cluded Ramona Insular, Ron Welch and Mel Kirkpatrick. Barbara Alinio, Diane Byers, Janice Kelly, and Pat Van Aernam were last year's pompon girls.

Commission

A number of vacant student body posts call for general elections late this month.

This year's leadership will be under Bob Braun, ASB president. Working with Bob will be ASB secretary, Joanna Cruysen. Commissioner of finance is Leo Tomasini; commissioner of public relations is Judy Wong; student store commissioner is Don Wag-

Larger Store Provides Added Service, Items

"No more long lines, no more crowding in the halls. The new self-service store put an end to all that." So said Mrs. Monie Finney, bookstore manager, in commenting about the college's newest addition.

The store, contrary to belief, is owned and financed by the Associated students.

NEW QUARTERS GIVE SPACE

Bookstore manager, Mrs. Monie Finney, and student clerk, Philip Nunez, check over records to see when gym shorts (not in yet) were ordered and might be expected. In background, student Fred Hamisch debates whether to buy one of the Nebbish figures (only $1.25) or a full art print (he has already passed up the porcelain mugs at $1). More than ever, bookstore carries a wide variety of supplies and attractive gifts, some with college crest—many items designed to serve student needs.

Porterville Bus

The bus to the Porterville game will shove off early Saturday afternoon. Cheer leaders, pompon girls and pep band will be on board.

Signups for the bus are still open today on the bulletin board.

Public Ceremony To Christen Libe

Formal dedication of the new Hartnell College library will be held September 27 at 3:00 p.m. in front of the new structure. Dr. Bard Daughters, president of the college board of trustees, will be the presiding official.

The invocation will be given by the Rev. M. L. Kemper of the First Presbyterian Church of Salinas. Following the welcome address by Dr. Daughters, the board members and special guests will be introduced.

Dr. J. F. Ching, Hartnell president, will speak on "Hartnell College As a Community College," prior to the official cutting of the ribbon by Miss Luella Wiens, head librarian.

A tour through the new library will climax the program.

Dedication ceremonies will provide a fitting climax to a growth process which has spread over three years. In 1956, college administrators came to realize that the growing student population would soon dictate such a structure to relieve crowded quarters in what is now the business wing.

Construction was actually begun in 1958, following plans of Architect Jerome Kasavan. Sali-

The college has nothing to do with the cost of the books, everything is priced by the publisher before arrival.

Mrs. Finney also added that they will buy back all new books bought this term until the end of September. At the end of the semester the store will buy back all old books, prices depending on the condition of the books.

Every two weeks a special sale will be held on various items. At present, Hartnell binders with 25 cents worth of paper are selling for $1.98.

A complete line of paperback books including classics and popular ones can be found in addition to college outlines, data guides and Schaum's outlines for math and science students.

There is a complete supply of art equipment: "Everything a budding artist may need." Art prints by famous painters such as Van Gogh, Picasso and Lautrec are sold for $1.

In the novelty line, the nebbishes are the standouts. For the freshman students, maroon and gold dinks are priced at $1.30. There are separate styles for men and women. Hartnell pennants, decals, pens and cigarette lighters are also available.

"The store is really a success as the students are able to see what there is to buy. I would welcome any suggestions from the students and if there is anything they wish to order, please let me know," concluded Mrs. Finney.

The store hours are 8 to 4 every day including the noon hour and during the first two weeks of night school from 6:30 until 9 p.m.

nas contractors Ekelin and Small gave out the wide variety of jobs to some 18 subcontractors.

Total cost for the finished building is more than $400,000.

In addition to the book stacks which will contain 40,000 volumes, the new structure houses audio-visual rooms, faculty offices, library offices and the Silliman Library.

Books were moved from the old library to the new in less than three hours last spring as students massed together to carry the volumes in their arms.

Science Teacher Returns From Scholarship Study

Mr. William C. Criswell has returned to Hartnell's chemistry laboratory after a year's absence. During this time he studied at the University of Virginia. He had received the National Science Foundation scholarship that gave him this opportunity to study the newer developments in science and science teaching up to date.

Editorial

"Another Opening, Another Show"

Another September, another clean slate and Hartnell college launches another term. In spite of her problems every now and then, Hartnell is doing her job consistently. Within her many classrooms you are learning how to face your many tomorrows . . . tomorrows filled with work, decisions, challenges and responsibilities. Armed with a group of capable instructors and an excellent academic program, Hartnell is able to maintain her high scholastic standards.

Even though there are no ivy covered walls or faithful chimes, Hartnell is still very much a college. Her lower division courses are equal to those offered at any four-year college or university.

All of you have your own aims and goals, and at Hartnell you are working to bring them into reality. You are bound to make many mistakes in your lifetime, but right now you are learning how to avoid making them because you know you are not given many chances to start a fresh new life.

While you study here, you are building the framework for a constructive and worthwhile life. You are learning how to live with others and how to express yourself intelligently. You are preparing to carry the future's work on your shoulders because all of you are going to play an important role in the future, whether you believe so or not.

But make your days at Hartnell enjoyable ones and have fun while getting an education, yet remember that this place is not a playground, but a college for people who want to better their lives.

Curtain Up

Tomorrow night King Football begins his annual reign as the Hartnell Panthers travel to take on the Pirates of Porterville. Will you be there? We hope so!

The Panthers face a tough schedule this season which includes top-rated Boise of Idaho and an host of strong conference foes. Doubtless, the team cannot do the work alone; they need your support constantly. While they are fighting on the field, your job is in the bleachers cheering and giving them that "push" that means so much to them in order to bring home a victory.

Last year the Panthers went undefeated and won the conference title. This year they're capable of doing just as well and perhaps even better, but regardless, it's up to you students to get behind them all the way!

Sounding Board

With this first issue, the Panther Sentinel starts its presses rolling. Various changes are planned for the coming editions to give you more variety and entertainment while presenting the regular news coverage. Yet, it is still your paper and we would like to encourage you to write to us about any questions you may have, gripes, complaints, comments, etc. All letters must be signed but names will be withheld upon request.

Our aims this semester can be summed up very well by quoting Adolph S. Ochs, late editor of the New York Times: "To present all the news impartially, without fear or favor."

I JUST HEARD A HORRIBLE RUMOR—THAT THE TRUSTEES WILL REQUIRE ALL PROFESSORS TO PASS TH' ENTRANCE EXAM!

INFORMAL INFORMER

Rambling On

Here we are again back at the old grind. To some students the college scene is a new one, but to the old veterans it is well known. It is composed of a lot of fun . . . and a lot of work. The trick is not to get an overbalance of one so as to offset the advantages of the other.

Disorganization, that's what we like! What's going on around here anyway? Two of the most important officers elected last year did not return to Hartnell, the sophomore class president and the commissioner of rallies and assemblies. It is unfortunate that these officers did not return, but we must go on without them. These are both very important jobs. Anyone interested in running for these vacated offices should see Miss Handley.

The rumor is Tom Whitney is back after a successful summer of sunbathing. Tom may have plans to run for Hartnell yell leader. Let's hope so! He would be a shot in the arm for our cheering section. As you all know, Tom is a very straight young man who never deviates from the normal patterns of living.

Get your "nebbish" at the student store.

Another rumor going around is that Sandra Eagleson, a sophomore from Watsonville, had several dates this summer with Sal Meneo.

The word leaked out that Judy Wong, Panther Sentinel editor, is a distant relative of Charley Chan. A little of her relative's charm seems to have rubbed off on to her because she is so mysterious about everything.

The byword of all Hartnell freshmen should be "Vivamus." It will give them what they want out of college life . . . for all you young ladies, husbands. For all of you young men, —, women and song. See Joel Lounsbury and join now. By the way, "Vivamus" is a Hartnell club.

The word is "Beat Porterville." Ken Blue's eleven is out for victory tomorrow night. If you can't make the trip be sure to listen to the game on the radio.

The new student store is a terrific improvement over the past year's arrangement. The only thing the students don't seem to like about it is the prices.

The Panther Sentinel has sent a telegram to the Russian premier, Krushchev, requesting an interview when the Russian leader makes a brief stop here in Salinas. This is a very progressive move by the student newspaper. It shows they are not asleep!

Administration Names New Deans, Department Heads

Department heads for the coming year have been announced by Mr. Stuart Dufour, vice-president of Hartnell.

The foreign language and English departments have been combined to form a language arts department headed by Mr. Emil Ramos. Mr. John Schaub has accepted the position of dean of extended day and Mr. Arthur Carlsen accepted the position as chairman of trade and industries. These departments were separated after the resignation of Mr. C. I. Bentley in June.

Mr. Lyman Fowler was named director of East Campus and in charge of maintenance. Dean of counseling service is Mr. Duane Sandgren, while Miss June Handley is the new dean of students.

Other departments and their heads include Mr. Ed Adams, director of athletics; Miss Anna Beck, vocational nursing; Dr. Howard Braverman, social science; Mr. Dan Coulter, mathematics; Dr. Jerome Holmes, science; Mr. Roy Lanini, agriculture; Mrs. Dorothy Middaugh, physical education; Miss Ruth Rothrock, business education; Miss Gladys Schmidt, home economics; Mr. Harold Ulrici, fine arts, and Miss Luella Wiens, library.

Drama Group Slates War Play

Tryouts for the Hartnell College-Community playhouse production of "Diary of Anne Frank" were held last night in the Little Theatre.

The play, written by Frances Goodrick and Albert Hackett, calls for five men and five women. Production date is set for the first week end of November.

The story is considered a true account of the experiences of a young Jewish girl in Amsterdam during the war. After her town is invaded by the Germans, she and her family go into hiding above a warehouse. For a year and a half they remain in hiding.

The drama department has made plans to extend the stage from where the storeroom is now located. The space will be used for makeup, costumes and building sets.

The extension will enable the department to present more complicated plays. It will now be possible to have wagons and other movable objects on the stage.

Two-hour television productions are also planned by the department. The department also hopes to bring in several classic and Shakespeare plays to be presented during the noon hour and evening for interested persons.

Library Opens To Night Study

Library hours have been announced by Miss Luella Wiens, head librarian. The building will be open from 8-4:30 five days a week and 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. every week day evening except Friday. These hours will go into effect September 21 when the outside lighting system is complete.

Six typewriters in a special room will be available to individual student use anytime. There are three listening rooms which will be furnished with phonographs soon.

She also added that the back conference room is reserved for classroom use only. The Silliman library is open for research upon request by the students; it is not to be used for general study purposes.

The browsing area right around the corner from the main entrance will soon have some easy chairs and couches for students while looking over the current fiction. ## Band Tuning Up for Halftime Entertainment; Needs Players

The Hartnell band has big plans for this year, according to Mr. Robert Lee, band director. It intends to offer the best of entertainment out on the football turf during halftimes. Performances will be based on themes. The first arrangement will be presented at the Porterville game tomorrow night under a summer theme.

The band will open with 33 members, half of whom are new this year. As the band is such an important factor in expressing Hartnell spirit, this organization is still open and invites new students to join.

In the fields of drums, basses, saxophones and bells, players are especially needed. Students with any other musical interests are also encouraged to offer their talents.

The uniforms are the same as in previous years: gray, maroon and gold.

The head drum major is unselected as yet. Majorette tryouts have been held this week; women selected will be introduced at the game tomorrow.

Mr. Lee welcomes anyone who would like to join.

Book Corner

By Judy Lucas

From the Terrace, by John O'Hara. Random House, New York City. $5.95.

For he who looks to books of fiction to augment his education, "From the Terrace," a masterpiece of character analysis by John O'Hara, is the book to read. The story itself is a completely new view of the "depression era" from the businessman's or moneyman's standpoint. These are the men who bought and sold the precarious stocks at the right time; these are the men who made millions while others were raining from windows and the beams of many buildings sagged with the weight of makeshift hangman's loops.

Alfred Eaton is the main character: The book is his story from two generations before his birth, to his decline. The book itself smacks somewhat of Steinbeck's "East of Eden" in plot and character development. They are both stories of men, their women, and the follies of man; their weaknesses, strength and goodness combined with evil, hate and greed to create explosive situations, one after another.

The theme of "From the Terrace" might well be phrased as "Do unto others before they do unto you." Mr. O'Hara's philoso-

Student Signup Shows Mild Drop

Total Hartnell enrollment at the beginning of this week stood at 1,037 compared to 1,109 at the same period last year. The total enrollment at the end of registration last year was 1,171 students.

Mr. Karl Bengston, Hartnell registrar, said that more students were expected to register during this week. However, he said the total enrollment would be slightly less than a year ago.

"The reason is partly due to the fact that Cabrillo college, which is temporarily located in Watsonville high school is now in operation. The usual figure from this area is several hundred students compared to less than 100 this semester. Also, employment conditions are better than last year. More students have taken jobs rather than return to school.

phy seems to be the antithesis of modern conception. His one big mistake was trying to make the reader believe he was reading about average people, and that American society as a rule is what the author says it is. However, it is for the reader to decide whether or not O'Hara is right.

Football team and Coach Blue, shown here in a candid shot as he lays it on the line, may again prove a winning combination. Team members have put in a lot of concentrated practice, beginning on the Hartnell field a full week before classes began.

Hill and Valley Team Shapes Up

As in the case of the football team, the cross-country team is going to try to live up to the excellent record of last year's cross-country team. Last year's team won all of its dual meets, but lost the Conference meet. Coach G. Ed Adams is in charge of the team.

The team is made up of many fine runners: Bruce Logan and Keith Miller are two veterans of last year and they can run very well. Stuart Frand is a newcomer but with an excellent record in the Coast Counties Athletic League. Bob Rackley is coming back after a year's absence. Fred Reyes is a new man who can run the mile very well. Truman Bankston, George Nicoldides, Gerald Sillsager, and Dennis Lopes are the remaining members of the team and they all have fine records.

All of the home meets are held at the Salinas Golf and Country club.

Coach Adams is always looking for new track men, so anyone who is interested should sign up.

Hartnell Footballers Hope To Equal Past Performance

The Hartnell football squad is expected to do great things this season, according to Coach Ken Blue.

The Panthers will meet the Porterville Pirates at Porterville Sept. 19, at 8:00 p.m. This is their first game of the season.

Coach Blue will again be head coach with John Schwellenbach and "Barney" Muldoon filling out the rest of the coaching staff. Bert Watson and Don Nergord assisted in practices and scrimmages.

The team works out each day, 2-4 p.m. During these daily workouts they run through different plays and try to improve their attack. The team has about the same plays as last season.

As usual the season will not be easy. There are many tough teams in the Coast Conference, one being Cabrillo college at Watsonville, although Hartnell will not play them until 1960. The Panthers have had scrimmages with San Francisco City college and Taft college. During these sessions the Hartnell eleven showed fair ball playing.

There are 12 returning lettermen, including Jim Fahey, halfback of 1956. Others are Bill Riddle and Jerry Kanada, quarterback, Vern Horton and Chris Machado, halfbacks; Gino Stefanini, center; Don Rohrke, guard; Mel Smith, Bud Bosworth and Mike Porter, tackles; Dan Belman and Mike Micheletti, ends.

Newcomers to the squad are Larry Sterling, quarterback, Frank Boynay, Ronnie Zumbro, Brad Tomasini, Roy Hanna, Mike Curran, Charles Green, Fred Corpuz, Dick Von Alvensleben, Don Borrelli, Andy Bulaich, Joe Munoz, Roy Flores, Larry Parker, Al Jones, Leo Arredondo, Tom Mead, Norm Colman, Bill McGroarty, Jerry Youngblood, John Batistich, Fred Harris, Bob Flores, James Holman and Charlie Elder.
